Call that consultation?

The so-called consultation by the Post Office into the closure of Mytchett Post Office took less than a week to be considered!

The result is that the Post Office ceased to operate on the 14th February. The Newsagents where the Post Office was based remains open. Lib Dems believe that the Post Office has behaved very badly over this matter. It is clear that the views of the local community have been totally ignored.

The Post Office offered no detailed response to the arguments put up in defence of Mytchett Post Office. It is pretty clear that the decision had been made in advance of the consultation period. The Post Office should have told the truth from the outset and made it clear that no matter what arguments were put up, Mytchett Post Office was going to close anyway!

Right: Councillors Cathie Whitcroft, Alan Whittart and Anji Patterson outside the new Frimley Green Post Office - ready to resist any attempt to close THIS Post Office at some time in the future!
